MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1799.

RASTADT, March 21.

If count Metternich ſhould quit this place it would be the firſt ſtroke towards the diſſolution of the congreſs. It is ſaid, that at his departure he will ſtate his ſentiments, reſpecting the rupture which the French have actually commenced, and the particular contents of the manifeſto of the French directory. The ambaſſadors from Saxony and Hanover will remain here, until every hope of the further operations of the congreſs has totally diſappeared. It is aſſerted, that the Pruſſian court ſtill firmly inſiſts on the retreat of the French troops from thoſe diſtricts on the right bank of the Rhine, where the theatre of the war is not eſtabliſhed. The Pruſſian miniſters here are more buſy now than ever. The miniſter, Alquier and Bucher, wait here for orders from their government reſpecting their future deſtination. They paid viſits to moſt of the deputies, and dined with the Pruſſian miniſter. The French miniſters at the congreſs declare, that they will not ſooner quit the congreſs, than when the imperial army ſhould advance, in which caſe they would proceed to Nancy or Straſburg, in order to proſecute the negotiation with thoſe ſtates of the empire which are diſpoſed for peace.

March 24.

Yeſterday 15 French gens d'arms arrived ſuddenly in town, with their officers and a trumpeter. A great number of people inſtantly aſſembled around them. Their appearance was ſo much more unexpected, becauſe nobody was prepared for their arrival, nor could their intentions be gueſſed at. Some, who pretended to know more than the reſt, aſſerted, that the French miniſter Bonnier had occaſioned this arrival from ſingular motives of timidity. However, the affair was thought ſo extraordinary by the Auſtrian miniſter, count Metternich, that he demanded an immediate explanation from the French embaſſy. Their anſwer was, that the arrival of 15 perſons as ordinances had happened through miſtake, and that four only had been wanted." Nevertheleſs the ſupernumerary gens d'arms ſtill remain here, and it is aſſerted, that their arrival had been occaſioned by the news received yeſterday, of general Jourdan's having been defeated by the archduke Charles. If this account is true, the congreſs will certainly now break up.

April 4.

The French have repaſſed the Rhine this afternoon in the greateſt confuſion, at Kehl. It is ſaid that the archduke is now marching by Schaffhauſen into Switzerland, and only leave in this quarter a corps of obſervation under the command of general Starry. On the 30th and 31ſt ſome affairs of poſts took place to the advantage of the Auſtrians, but we do not know what are the details of it. What follows has been ſent from Baſle, under the date of the 3d.— "Very ſerious diſturbances have taken place at Moſnang and Flaawyl, in the canton of Appenzel. The Helvetic directory is in the moſt ſerious alarm on the ſubject, although Maſſena, ſtationed along the Rhine, and having deſtroyed all the bridges ſituated along this river from Conſtance, as far as Baſle, promiſes to do impoſſibilities for their ſupport, and aſſures them of the ſupport of the great nation. The Auſtrians are expected and deſired with great anxiety. At Auguſt, in the canton of Baſle, adjoining the Frickthal and Villies Foreſtieres, 500 Swiſs who were ordered to march to Rheinfeld, have refuſed to go, and returned into Baſle. The legiſlative body have in conſequence of this decreed the pain of death againſt ſuch Swiſs of the regiment appointed as ſhall make a ſimilar refuſal, and have ordered that all unmarried Swiſs, without diſtinction, from the age of 20 to 45 years as well as all married men under 30, ſhall immediately repair to the frontiers.

Baſle has been put into a ſtate of ſiege.

HAGUE, March 26.

At Bruſſels bloody quarrels have taken place among the French ſoldiers themſelves, the commandant was obliged to order out a whole battalion againſt the combatants, and could not reduce them to order but by force. Since the renewal of the war in Germany, the numerous friends of the emperor in Belgium, wait for the arrival of the Britiſh and Ruſſian troops, which induced the French general Crevoli to iſſue a moſt ſevere proclamation.

LUCERN, March 29.

Our directory having declared war againſt Auſtria, orders have been ſent off to the commanders of the militia of Baſle, Zurich, Schaffhauſen, &c. to repair to the Rhine, and put themſelves under the command of general Keller, under the direction of the French.

The day before yeſterday the directory gave orders to general Keller to break down or burn all the bridges over the Rhine into Switzerland. General Maſſena has arrived at Conſtance, with a ſtrong body, in order to defend Switzerland againſt an invaſion. In the Griſons he has made preparations for the defence of the country.

ZURICH, March 21.

We are now in great uneaſineſs. Government has to appropriate the militia to the defence of the frontiers of the country, but this meaſure meets with great difficulty in the execution. Two diſtricts in the canton of Glarus, Flaawyl, and Moſnang (ſtate St Gall) are in a ſtate of actual inſurrection. They have had the boldneſs to oppoſe the conſcription of the militia, cut down the tree of liberty, and mal-treated or expelled the magiſtrates.

SUABIA, April 4.

PROCLAMATION

Of the archduke Charles, commander in chief of the Imperial troops, to the Swiſs.

In conſequence of the two victories obtained over the French army which, without any previous declaration of war, had advanced from their poſitions, and had exerciſed hoſtilities and made attacks in every quarter, the troops under my command entered the Swiſs country, not to wage war with the well affected Swiſs, but to purſue the common enemy, againſt whom you yourſelves bravely fought for your liberty and independence, and whoſe ſuperior force alone was able to reduce you to the wretched ſituation in which you are placed, and againſt whom you have already ſo ſtrongly expreſſed your decided opinion. Among other pretences which are brought forward to reconcile you to this ſtate of dependance and ſubjection, in which you are placed, it has been repreſented as the object of the Imperial court to make your territories the ſubject of partition. Attempts likewiſe have been made to alarm you with the apprehenſion that the Imperial army threatened you with ſubjugation and plunder.

For theſe reaſons, I feel myſelf called upon ſolemnly to make known to the whole Swiſs nation, that it is the purpoſe of his Imperial majeſty to regulate himſelf by the aſſurances which their high mightineſſes of the Swiſs confederacy have on every occaſion diſcovered of their conſtant friendſhip and neighbourly regard, and to preſerve with them the friendly relations which have hitherto ſubſiſted. His Imperial majeſty likewiſe has no other object in view but to enter upon negotiations by which the Swiſs may be ſecured in their independence, integrity, freedom, privileges and poſſeſſions.

For theſe reaſons, I expect that the troops under my command, which have entered the Swiſs territories from the pureſt motives, will upon this arduous and preſſing occaſion, be ſupported by all thoſe who have a regard to the intereſt of their country and the true intereſt of the confederacy, and that the people of Switzerland will abſtain from every meaſure by which the evils of war may be increaſed.

Among the various advantages which ſuch a conduct will confer upon Switzerland, it will not be the leaſt conſiderable that the regulations which have been impoſed with hoſtile views, and by violent interference, will be aboliſhed, and that the former relations, with regard to commerce and communication between Germany and Switzerland, will be again eſtabliſhed.

(Signed) THE ARCHDUKE CHARLES.

March 30, 1799.

ROVEREDO, (a town of Germany, in the Tyrol, ſeated on the Adige,) April 2.

After the French on the 30th ult. had made the fourth fruitleſs attack on the Auſtrians in Italy, under the command of general Kray, they on the 31ſt attempted a fifth, and general Scherer appeared determined to defeat the Auſtrians, and take Legnano, and Verona, before the Ruſſians ſhould arrive. With this view he continually brought up freſh troops, and reinforced himſelf with the garriſons of Mantua and Peſchiera, but all his endeavours failed, and on the 31ſt he was entirely defeated with great loſs. The Auſtrians cut off the retreat of the French at Rivoli, and they loſt in killed, wounded and priſoners, not leſs than 8000 men.

(Another letter, ſame date)

"The magiſtracy of this city have received the following official account, dated Verona, head quarters of general Kray, 1ſt April.

"In the night, between the 30th and 31ſt, a French column paſſed the Adige over a bridge of boats near Rivoli, to attack in flank by the mountains, the right wing of the Imperial army. The generals Kray and Kaim, had recourſe to the following ſtratagem: They cauſed their infantry to retreat almoſt to Verona, in order to amuſe the French, while a corps of cavalry having with them 20 or 25 pontoons, went by the bye-roads, and deſtroyed the bridge. The retreat of the French column being thus cut off, 2000 were killed and wounded, and the remaining 6000 laid down their arms. They had with them 11 pieces of cannon, and a great number of ammunition waggons."

LINDAU, April 6.

Jourdan's retreat has deſtroyed the whole French plan of operations. General Maſſena is now attempting to defend Switzerland, and all his forces are aſſembling between Rheinau and Conſtance. His head quarters were, on the 4th at Rheinau, from whence they have been moved to Geiſperg. He is himſelf gone to Baſle.

Generals Hotze, Jellachich and Bellgarde, were preparing to make a general attack upon the Griſons the moment the archduke enters Switzerland by Schaffhauſen. It appears there are great troubles in that country. General Hotze has not yet entered the canton of Zurich.

FRANCE.

COUNCIL of FIVE HUNDRED.

Sitting of April 17.

In purſuance of the preſident's invitation, council reſolved itſelf into a general committee, to hear the reading of a meſſage from the directory.

A three o'clock the ſitting became public, and a ſecond reading of the meſſage was called for. The propoſition was oppoſed by a great number of members, and the queſtion being put, the preſident declared it was negatived.

Remonſtrances and murmurs were heard from all quarters of the council.

Fabre (de l'Aude) aſked why the meſſage, which contained nothing that ought to be concealed, and only ſtated as a certainty that the levy of 200,000 men was not complete, ſhould not be read?

The preſident once more put the queſtion on the reading of the meſſage, and it was carried in the affirmative.

The ſubſtance of it is as follows:

"The executive directory thinks it its duty to acquaint you, citizen repreſentatives, that notwithſtanding all the activity and care employed in the execution of the law with reſpect to the conſcription, the levy of 200,000 men is not entirely effected, and that the liſts are ſtill far from being completed. But the greatneſs of the efforts made by the coalition, requires that we ſhould rapidly call into action all our reſources, in order to force it to the concluſion of a permanent peace.

"The preſſure of the circumſtance is known to you, it is a matter of inſtant urgency to give to the directory the power of taking from the 2d and 3d claſſes the number of men neceſſary to complete the levy. You will alſo form a judgment that it is in want of a certain latitude of acting to aſcertain the reſult of that meaſure. It thinks neceſſary to declare, that it cannot be delayed without expoſing the republic to danger, and compromiſing the glory of her arms, and the ſafety of her allies. By aſſuring to our armies a great ſuperiority, the meaſure may alſo ſpare the effuſion of blood, and finally compel our enemies to reſpect us."

The council declared the urgency of the meſſage, and directed it ſhould be carried into effect.

LONDON, April 18.

Ancona is ſaid to be taken by the Ruſſians and Turks.

Inſurrections have broken out in various parts of Switzerland; the people of ſeveral diſtricts have cut down the tree of liberty, refuſed to obey the decrees for enrolling themſelves in the militia, and driven away the public functionaries.

The archduke Charles is making preparations to advance into Switzerland, and has iſſued a proclamation to the Switzers. He has been joined by general Starry.

La Prudente, French ſloop of war, and the Goliah, tranſport ſhip, have been taken by a Britiſh frigate. La Prudente had 20 men killed, and 25 wounded. They were bound to Ireland, with cargoes of muſkets, powder, ſhells and grenadoes.

April 23.

Extract of a letter from colonel Williams, March 27.

"I have juſt time to tell you that a ſecond battle took place on the 25th, at Stockah, in which the French have been ſeverely beaten; as they have alſo been by general Hotze, near Feldkirk. In this latter action the French have loſt 4000 men. On the morning of the 26th, 150 waggons of their wounded, each containing ſeven or eight men, arrived at Lindau. The loſs has, however, been conſiderable on both ſides, though the number of the French is greater than ours. The French, in conſequence of the victory of general Hotze, are croſſing the Rhine with great precipitation at Bregentz. I have not time to ſay any more."

A New-Caſtle paper of Saturday laſt contains the following paragraph:

"We have juſt learnt that a maſter of a neutral veſſel who arrived at Sunderland on Thurſday from Amſterdam, has brought intelligence that the French directory having withdrawn great part of the troops from Holland to reinforce their beaten armies on the Rhine, the inhabitants of that diſtreſſed country had riſen on the remainder, whom they had entirely maſſacred, and at length reſcued themſelves from the fangs of their unprincipled oppreſſors."

April 24.

"General Hotze is marching into the Griſon country, and a diviſion of the left wing of the archduke's army is proceeding into Switzerland, by which means the French are likely to be between two fires.

"It is reported that general Starry has been before hand with general St. Cyr, having got to Offenburg before him, by which manœuvre he cut off that general's retreat to Kehl on the right bank of the Rhine.

April 29.

GREAT NEWS, received by the Hamburg mail.

The French have been beaten in every quarter; the whole of their plans have been ſo completely deranged, that the remains of their defeated armies, retreating in almoſt every direction, will now endeavour to cover, if poſſible, their own frontiers, and act upon the defenſive for the reſt of the campaign.

HAMBURG, April 6.

On the 30th ult. the French attacked the Auſtrians on the Upper Adige, between Verona and Roveredo. At the firſt they obtained ſome ſucceſs—but they were the ſame day repulſed with very conſiderable loſs.

Accounts have been received from the Tyrol, that the French force which had penetrated into that country had been obliged to evacuate it completely; and that general Jourdan's army, as well as a great part of Bernadotte's, had repaſſed the Rhine, having left a garriſon in Manheim and in the works of Kehl, but had abandoned the blockade of Philipſburg. The Auſtrians have advanced to Fribourg and Offenburg, and have ſummoned Kehl to ſurrender. Advices from Raſtadt of the 8th April, mention that general Starry had gained a very conſiderable advantage over the French general St. Cyr, as the latter was retreating from Freudenſtadt to Offenburg, on his way to Kehl; and that the French had loſt a conſiderable park of artilleſy.

Extract of a letter from Paris, April 9.

"Yeſterday evening we learnt that general Jourdan had arrived in this capital, returned from his campaign on the Danube.—We learnt beſides, not only that he had been recalled from his command, but that the moſt ſiniſter reports were circulated reſpecting the motives of his recal, the loſs of the army, and its retreat to Gengenbach and Offenburg, or even to Straſburg. Advantage was taken likewiſe to increaſe the anxious curioſity of the public, of an order of the miniſter of war, publiſhed yeſterday in Paris, which enjoins every conſcript, requiſitionary, and other military man, abſent from his corps, to "depart within twenty four hours for his poſt, under pain of being arreſted and puniſhed as a deſerter?"—Although this order be only the conſequence of the exiſting laws, and a means of carrying them into execution, malevolence will not let this opportunity eſcape of circulating the report, that a new requiſition is about to be raiſed, on account of the dangers of the commonwealth. We are anxious to deſtroy this falſe report, by obſerving, that the government confines itſelf by preſſing the departure of thoſe for the army who ought long ago, to have been there, and who have no legal exemptions. At the ſame time, in order to convey an exact idea of the ſtate of affairs, government has publiſhed, officially, the following intelligence from the army of the Danube, now returning towards the Rhine:

"The commander in chief, Jourdan, having been compelled by ſickneſs, ſet off for Straſburg, on the ſame day (third of April) on which the attack was to be made on the enemy. He had before requeſted permiſſion to come to Paris, and had propoſed generals St. Cyr or Forino to command in his abſence. The Executive Directory have appointed general Maſſena to take, ad interim, the command of the armies; but previouſly to his arrival, general Jourdan had, on ſetting off, intruſted the command to general Ernouf, who having been attacked in his advanced poſts, ordered the retreat acroſs the Rhine.

BOSTON, June 7.

Foreign papers ſay, that there never were ſo many pieces of artillery employed by any army as by the Auſtrian. In one action they had 300 pieces inceſſantly playing upon the enemy during the fight.

The Danes are fitting out 11 ſhips of the line; and have laid an additional duty of 10 per cent. on Eaſt and Weſt-India goods, to defray the expence.

HOLLAND.

Captain Peper, from Holland, in a very ſhort paſſage, furniſhes news of the French diſaſters. He contradicts the information of an inſurrection in Holland. We did not expect ſuch an event from the heavy Dutchmen. He ſays the French troops are principally withdrawn—and the people are pleaſed at the circumſtance, becauſe proviſions are plentier and cheaper. Many Dutch men of war have been diſmantled, and their crews diſcharged.

June 8.

A letter from captain Andrew Cazenau, of the ſhip Britannia, of Boſton, to his friend in this town, gives the following account; which though the event was not entirely fortunate, may ſerve as another ſpecimen of American ſpirit:

On the 15th April, at 3 P. M. I fell in with a French privateer of 10 guns, and 95 men, and engaged her for three quarters of an hour, but he having ſo much the advantage of ſailing, run up along ſide, and boarded us with 50 men, and obliged me to ſubmit: they killed two and wounded three of our crew, and we killed ſeven of them. Myſelf and all hands were taken on board the privateer, and at 9 P. M. the ſame day were taken by the Surpriſe, captain Hamilton, and at 1 A. M. the Surpriſe retook the Britannia, and ſent her into this port. (Jamaica.")

The Britannia mounted 8 four pounders, and 14 men.

Though we were ample in our details on Wedneſday, we add the following articles.

The archduke's official account.

"On the 24th March, I cauſed the army to march from Pfullendorf, and take poſſeſſion of the camp before Stockak.—My advanced poſts extended to Steiſtingen, Aigelbringen, and to the heights Liptingen, near which latter major-general count Merfeld took three pieces of cannon, and a number of priſoners. About two o'clock the enemy, though he frequently rallied, and fought with the greateſt bravery, was obliged to give way, and was intirely driven out of the wood. During the filing off of our grenadiers, the French caribineers made an attack upon them, but were received and repulſed by the regiments of Naſſau and Mack; after which the French infantry were attacked and driven back by our grenadiers; nearly half a brigade was taken priſoners, and a piece of cannon taken by our cavalry.

"CHARLES."

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.

Extract of a letter from captain David Travis, of the ſhip Matilda, dated St. Sebaſtians, April 24, to a gentleman in this city.

"I am informed by a gentleman from Bourdeaux, that the French army on the Rhine has loſt 30,000 men—and that their head general has quit the army.

On the month of June.

SO comes the blooming month of June,
When nature all is in its bloom.
See flow'rs of various kind appear
To help the beauties of the year.
The daiſies gay, the cowſlips fine,
The roſes bloom and in their prime,
Th' gilliflow'r and daffodilly,
How pleaſing is it now to ſee,
How beauteous does their flow'rs ſhow
In this ſeaſon all muſt know.
The pretty birds raiſe now their ſong,
Harmonious is their Heav'nly tongue.
The mock bird ſings ten thouſand ways,
Enough its hearers to amaze.
So does the red bird, us ſurprize
In pleaſing notes without diſguiſe,
Poor whipperwill, loud to be heard,
Sing in the woods that's not well clear'd.
Now blooming June to all appear
Beauteous becauſe the bloom of year.
We'll praiſe the God of ſeaſons now,
Becauſe all nature to him bow:
I ſee his works in ev'ry flow'r,
We ſhould thro' them his name adore.
We'll paſs along to ſweet July
Our meditations to ſupply.

In CHANCERY, May 31, 1799.

THOMAS HARWOOD, an insolvent debtor, of Calvert county, makes application, as a trader, by petition to the chancellor in writing, praying the benefit of an act for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors; there is annexed to his petition a schedule of his property, and a list of his creditors, on oath, as by the said act is required; the chancellor is satisfied, by competent testimony, that he is at this time, and was at the time of passing that act, a citizen of the United States, and of this state, it is thereupon adjudged and ordered, that he appear before the chancellor, in the chancery-office, on the twenty-first day of December next, for the purpose of taking the oath by the said act required, in presence of his creditors, and that, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted once in each of three successive weeks before the twenty-first day of June next, in the Maryland Gazette, he give notice to his creditors to attend on the said twenty-first day of December, for the purpose recommending a trustee for their benefit, and to lodge with the chancellor, within six months from the time of the last publication, (if they shall think fit) their dissent to his being admitted to the benefit of the said act.

Sale by auction.

One hundred lots of ground in the centre of the city of Baltimore.

THE subscribers propose selling at auction, upon the premises, on Friday the 28th day of June next, at 10 o'clock, one hundred lots of ground, on the east side of Jones's Falls, fronting on President and other new streets, lately laid off on and contiguous to that beautiful navigation now completing at the mouth of the said falls, where a handsome new bridge is erected on Pratt-street, leading into the above property.

Jones's Falls takes its rise in rich limestone land, about ten miles from the city, and passing rapidly through a fine but hilly country, (supplying a great number of water works in its course,) runs through the middle of the city, in a fine, fresh, lively, constant stream, into the harbour; a circumstance of peculiar advantage in our climate, in point both of utility and healthfulness, it being upwards of one hundred feet wide at Pratt-street bridge, and gradually increases to the width of one hundred and fifty feet where it empties into the harbour.

A reference to the plot, which may be seen at Yates and Campbell's auction room after the 10th day of June, will clearly shew the many advantages of the above property, which is situated in one of the most healthy parts of Baltimore, and remarkable for the purity and softness of spring water.

Some of the lots will be sold in fee-simple, on a liberal credit, and others on lease for 99 years, renewable for ever, the particulars of which will be made known at the time of sale.

The subscribers being appointed trustees for the purpose of selling and conveying so much of the real estate of the late deceased major-general SMALLWOOD as may be necessary to discharge his debts, will OFFER for SALE, on Monday the 15th of July next, if fair, if not the first fair day thereafter,

SUNDRY LANDS belonging to the estate of the said deceased, consisting of eight or ten thousand acres, lying in Charles county, and situate chiefly on the Mattawoman creek, within a very few miles of the Potowmack river; as those lands are composed of a variety of tracts or parcels of different contents and descriptions, it is not in the power of the trustees particularly to designate them in an advertisment; but it can be said with certainty that they are well adapted to planting and farming, abound in good water, and are well stocked with timber and wood, besides a number of them having the advantage of fisheries equal to any in Maryland. The sale will commence at a place on the Mattawoman creek, well known by the name of Brawner's Mill, at 12 o'clock, on the day above mentioned, and will be continued from day to day, until it is completed, at such places as may then be made known by the trustees. Purchasers will be required to give bond, with good security, to the trustees for the amount of the purchase money, the one half thereof payable, with interest, within one year, and the residue, with interest, within two years from the time of sale. Possession will be given on the first of January next, and deeds executed to the respective purchasers when the whole of the money is paid, and not before. The said lands will be sold in such tracts or parcels as may appear to the trustees best to answer the design of the sale, and every information respecting them given at the time of sale that may come to the knowledge of the trustees.

In CHANCERY, May 30, 1799.

ON application to the chancellor, by petition, in writing, of BENJAMIN CAWOOD, of Charles county, praying the benefit of the act for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors, passed at the last session, on the terms therein mentioned, and a schedule of his property, and a list of his creditors, so far as he can ascertain the same, on oath, being annexed to his petition, and the said Benjamin Cawood being known to the chancellor to be at this time, and at the time of passing the last act of assembly, a citizen of this state, and of the United States; and the said Benjamin Cawood, at the time of presenting his petition, having produced to the chancellor the assent in writing of so many of his creditors, as have due to them, according to the list aforesaid, the amount of two thirds of the debts due by him at the time of passing the said act; it is therefore adjudged and ordered, that the said Benjamin Cawood, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted once in each of three successive weeks in the Maryland Gazette, before the end of June next, give notice to his creditors to appear at the chancery-office, at eleven o'clock, on the twenty-second day of October next, for the purpose of recommending some person to be trustee for their benefit, on the said Benjamin Cawood's then and there taking the oath prescribed for delivering up his property.
